

Registration

Registration marks the transmission of an article more secure, as it passes through hands of postal supervisors under special precautions.

Letters, post cards, printed papers, small packets and parcels can be registered at any post office for transmission by post.

Registration is strongly advised in following cases:

- Any parcel.
- Any insured article.
- Any article containing postage or other stamps or labels or a cheque, banknote, bank post, bill of exchange or the like.
- Any value-payable article.